Message from the Chairman

Assalamu Alaikum Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Alhamdullilah, by the grace of Allah, we have yet again been blessed with the beautiful month of Ramadan. A month which is full of Allah's Mercy and Bounty upon His believing servants. On behalf of Alhikmah Foundation Board of Trustees, I am honoured to welcome all of you to spend your Ramadan at Masjid Alhikmah.

From the many blessings of Allah upon us, one of them is the blessing of this earth and everything which is within it. Therefore, it is a duty upon us to preserve our environment and not to be wasteful. To this effect we have introduced several measures this year including reduction of single use plastic water bottles and no use of Styrofoam during Iftar. I encourage all of you to do your bit by setting yourself a goal to be more sustainable this Ramadan.

We have an exciting array of programmes planned for the month of Ramadan including daily Quran and Hadith reminders, competitions for the youth and weekly Hadith and Quran halaqas for our sisters. We will be providing free creche services during Taraweeh prayers so that the parents can listen and concentrate to the Quran. Further details of all the programmes can be found in the following pages of the Ramadan guide.

I pray that Allah makes this Ramadan the best Ramadan of our lives. A Ramadan which is full of the remembrance of Allah, recitation of the Quran, standing in night prayers, seeking His Forgiveness, spending in Sadaqa, improving ourselves and a lot of Dua. Lastly, I request all of you to help us serve you better by considering donating towards the masjid, volunteering your time, by following the guidelines and being considerate towards your fellow brothers and sisters from within and outside our faith.

Ramadan Giving

RAMADAN THE MONTH OF GIVING...DONATE TO YOUR MASJID

Free Yourself

By Imam Emran Ahmed

In Islam, the concept of freeing oneself refers to freeing oneself from the bondage of material desires and temptations in order to attain spiritual purity and closeness to Allah. This involves striving to purify one's heart and mind, and striving to live a life of righteousness and submission to Allah's will. The month of Ramadhan is the best opportunity to free ourselves from all distractions and submit to Allah.

1. Freeing oneself from sins: Islam teaches that committing sins can enslave a person to their desires and lead to a life of misery. Overall, freeing oneself from sin in Islam requires acknowledging the sin, seeking forgiveness from Allah and others, making amends, avoiding the sin in the future, and performing good deeds to purify oneself (An-Nawawi)

2. Freeing oneself from materialism: Materialism in Islam is generally viewed as a negative trait that is discouraged by Islamic teachings. Islam encourages its followers to prioritize spiritual and moral values over material possessions and to seek contentment and moderation in their material lives. The accumulation of wealth and possessions is not inherently sinful, but the love and attachment to them over and above one's duties to Allah is considered a form of idolatry and a distraction from the true purpose of life. Islam teaches that true success lies in the pursuit of God-consciousness (Taqwa) and the development of one's character and virtues, rather than in the pursuit of material possessions or worldly status. One way to achieve this is by giving regular charity, as it helps to purify the heart and reminds us that our wealth is not truly ours.

3. Freeing oneself from negative emotions: Islam teaches that negative emotions such as anger, envy, and jealousy can harm a person's soul and lead to unhappiness and distraction from submitting to the will of Allah. To free oneself from these emotions and develop a positive outlook on life, here are some advices:

- Seeking refuge in Allah: The Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) taught that seeking refuge in Allah from Satan and his temptations is one of the ways to overcome negative emotions. Allah warns us that the whispers of Shaytaan are to make the believers feel sad and depressed. (58:10)
- Practicing patience: Patience is highly valued in Islam, and it is one of the ways to overcome negative emotions. Allah says in the Quran, "And seek help through patience and prayer, and indeed, it is difficult except for the humbly submissive [to Allah]" (2:45). One should try to be patient in the face of adversity and avoid reacting impulsively.
- Forgiving others: Forgiving others is also highly valued in Islam. Allah says in the Quran, "Let them pardon and overlook. Would you not like that Allah should forgive you? And Allah is Forgiving and Merciful" (24:22). Forgiveness can help to release negative emotions and promote inner peace.
- Making dua: Muslims believe that making dua (supplication) to Allah can help to overcome negative emotions. One can ask Allah to grant them peace, patience, and forgiveness.
- Reading the Quran: Reading the Quran can help to calm the mind and heart. It is considered to be a source of guidance and healing for Muslims. Allah says in the Quran, "And We send down of the Quran that which is healing and mercy for the believers" (17:82).
- Performing good deeds: Performing good deeds can help to purify the heart and overcome negative emotions. Muslims are encouraged to be charitable, help others, and do good deeds for the sake of Allah.

Allah says in the Quran, "And establish prayer and give zakah, and whatever good you put forward for yourselves - you will find it with Allah. Indeed, Allah of what you do, is all-Seeing" (2:110).

4. Freeing oneself from ignorance:
Islam emphasizes the importance of seeking knowledge and understanding the world around us. freeing oneself from ignorance is considered a vital aspect of personal and spiritual growth. "Jahiliyyah" in Arabic, refers to a state of spiritual darkness and unawareness, which can lead to sinful behaviour and hinder one's ability to connect with Allah. Here are some ways in which a Muslim can free themselves from ignorance:

- Seeking knowledge: The Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) said, "Seeking knowledge is obligatory on every Muslim." (Ibn Majah) This emphasizes the importance of gaining knowledge in Islam. One can seek knowledge by reading the Quran, Hadith, and other Islamic literature, attending classes and lectures, and seeking guidance from knowledgeable scholars.
- Reflecting on the Quran: The Quran is the ultimate source of guidance for Muslims. By reflecting on its verses and understanding their meanings, one can gain insight into the purpose of life and how to lead a righteous and fulfilling existence.
- Striving for self-improvement: Islam places great emphasis on self-improvement, both spiritually and morally. By making a conscious effort to improve one's character and behaviour, a Muslim can overcome their ignorance and strive towards a more enlightened state of being.
- Practicing humility: Arrogance and pride can blind a person to their own shortcomings and prevent them from seeking knowledge and self-improvement. Practicing humility and acknowledging one's own limitations can help a person overcome their ignorance and become more receptive to learning and growth.

Rasūlullāh (pbuh) ordered the giving of one sā' of dates or one sā' of barley as Ṣadaqatul-Fitr on every Muslim slave and free person, male and female, minor and adult. (Al-Bukhārī)

5. Freeing oneself from oppression:
In Islam, oppression is strongly condemned, and Muslims are urged to strive for justice and equality. Islam teaches that all individuals, regardless of their race, gender, or social status, have equal rights and are entitled to be treated with dignity and respect. The Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) said, "Help your brother, whether he is an oppressor or he is oppressed." When asked how to help an oppressor, he replied, "By preventing him from oppressing others." (al-Bukhari) To free oneself from oppression in Islam, there are a few steps that one can take:

- Seek help from Allah: Muslims believe that Allah is the ultimate helper and protector. Therefore, one should turn to Allah and seek His help in freeing oneself from oppression.
- Speak up: Islam encourages individuals to speak up against injustice and oppression. If someone is - being oppressed, they should speak up and seek help from those who are in a position to assist.
- Practice patience: Islam teaches that patience is a virtue and that those who are patient will ultimately be rewarded. Therefore, individuals who are facing oppression should remain patient and steadfast in their faith and beliefs.

Ultimately, in Islam, true freedom comes from submitting to Allah's will and following His guidance. By doing so, one can attain inner peace and contentment, and live a fulfilling life. Let us make a firm intention to free ourselves this Ramadhan for the sake of Allah.

Advices for Ramadhan

1. Plan and schedule
Plan each day and night of Ramadhan and schedule in all your duties & commitments and allocate specific times for worship and stick to it the whole month of Ramadhan.

2. Read lots of Quran
The month of Ramadhan is the month of the Quran. Read Quran excessively. Ibn asakir narrates that Imam ash-Shaf'I would complete 60 Qurans by the end of Ramadhan!

3. Make lots of Duaa
A fasting persons duaas are accepted especially at the time of Iftaar (Jami`at-Tirmidhi 3598). Try ensure the time spent before the Maghrib Azaan is spent engaged in Duaa.

4. Donate to charity daily
The month of Ramadhan is the month where all good deeds should be performed and increased in. The prophet (pbuh) generosity would increase in the month of Ramadhan (Sahih al-Bukhari 3554). Try donate daily in the nights especially in the last 10 nights as this will enable us to donate in Laylatul Qadar.

5. Spend time in the Masjid
Imam Ahmad reports in his book 'az-Zuhd' that Abu Hurayrah and his companions would sit in the Masjid when they would fast. This would help them keep their fasts pure from sins.

6. Make your whole body fast not just the stomach
Jabir bin Abdillah would say "When you fast, ensure your ears, eyes and tongue fasts from sins." (Bayhaqi 3646)

7. Be Patient
The Prophet (pbuh) called Ramadhan the month of patience (Ahmad, Nasai). We need to be patient with everyone around us and be patient on the difficulties we experience through worship. Do not complain about the strenuous activities despite our family and work schedule. Be grateful for every opportunity.

Gift aid: Increase your gift by 25% at no extra cost!

I would like Alhikmah Foundation SCIO to treat this donation, any donations I have made in the last 4 years and any future donations as Gift Aid donations. I confirm I have paid or will pay an amount of Income Tax and/or Capital Gains Tax for each tax year (6 April to 5 April) that is at least equal to the amount of tax that all the charities or Community Amateur Sports Clubs (CASCs) that I donate to will reclaim on my gifts for that tax year. I understand that other taxes such as VAT and Council Tax do not qualify. I understand the charity will reclaim 25p of tax on every £1 that I give and that Gift Aid cannot be claimed where my family or I receive a personal benefit and that the funds received will be used towards the general costs of the charity or other programmes that the charity is working on.
